allelopathy

30. October 2025

Negative influence of plants on other plants (including algae) through metabolic compounds that are either released from living plants or liberated from dead plant material.