biotope

30. October 2025

The entirety of all living communities (biocoenoses) within a specific habitat (biotope). The term may also refer to smaller, often near-natural spatial units, known as microhabitats (microenvironments), such as deadwood, tree cavities, or fungal fruiting bodies.