coppice

30. October 2025

Coppice refers to a form of vegetative regeneration in which new shoots sprout from the remaining stump or root collar of a tree after it has been felled or damaged. These shoots can develop into new trees, allowing for rapid natural stand regeneration without seeding or planting.