diameter at breast height (dbh)

30. October 2025

In forestry practice, the diameter of a standing tree is measured at a height of 1.3 m above ground and referred to as the diameter at breast height (DBH, d1.3). In some countries, such as France and Belgium, DBH is measured at 1.5 m above ground.