fixed area plot

30. October 2025

Sampling method for forest inventory in which a circular plot with constant radius is established in the forest. All trees within the circle exceeding a certain diameter at breast height (measurement threshold) are then included in the survey and measured.