(Mirror) Relascope

30. October 2025

The mirror relascope is an optical instrument used in forest surveying and inventory that can be applied for angle count sampling (and height measurement). It allows the determination of basal area and tree height from a fixed position using a mirror system and engraved scales.