pseudogley

30. October 2025

Soil type influenced by stagnant water or waterlogging, characterized by alternating wet and dry conditions, that is, seasonal drying or saturation caused by an impermeable horizon. Stagnogley soils show stagnant water for most of the year, while Gleysols are affected by groundwater year-round.