strip cutting, strip felling

30. October 2025

Regeneration method for mixed stands containing tree species with different light requirements. In this method, mature trees are removed along a narrow strip (with a width of approximately one tree height) at the edge of an old stand.