Transit zone

30. October 2025

The middle part of a hazard path where material travels downslope between the initiation area and the runout or deposition area. In avalanches this is the track, and in rockfall it is the section where blocks roll, bounce, and accelerate. Management aims to reduce speed and limit exposure here.