wood of high quality, valuable timber

30. October 2025

High-quality, largely defect-free timber suitable for the production of sawn wood and veneers is referred to as quality timber. Among these, the particularly valuable stems are classified as valuable timber, for which, in addition to large dimensions, the absence of knots is a decisive criterion.